

SINGING BOOKS!

A free program for young children and families

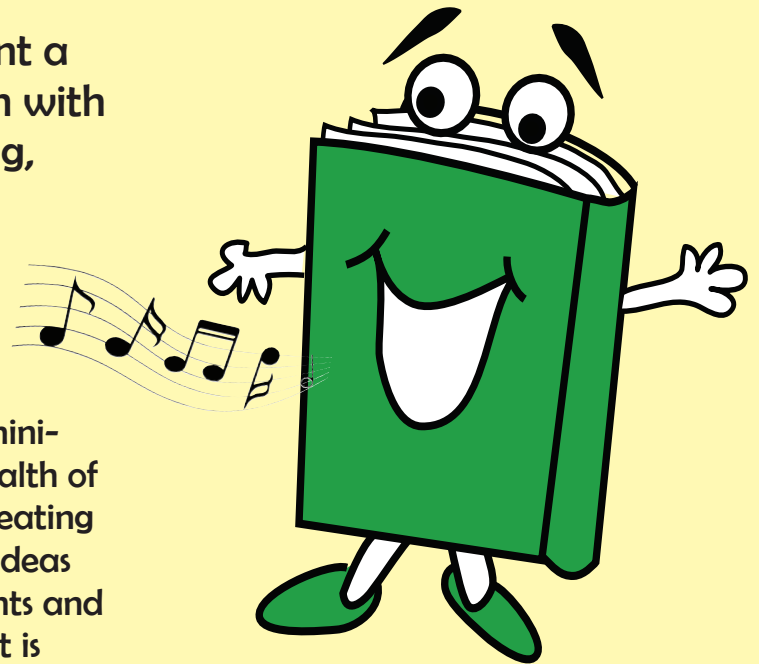

10:30 a.m., Saturday, August 26
Community Room, Pease Public Library
1 Russell St., Plymouth

Suitable for wee ones through kindergarteners & their parents
Older siblings, grandparents, cousins & care providers also welcome!

Deborah Stuart and Will Cabell present a program full of audience participation with songs, instruments, “big books,” moving, clapping and dancing.

Information: www.aannh.org
Questions? Call 323-7302

Following the program, Deborah will hold a mini-workshop for adults where she will share a wealth of information about books made from songs, creating your own homemade instruments and lots of ideas for early childhood educators, providers, parents and grandparents. Professional development credit is available. Preregistration is encouraged – email programs@aannh.org.

Presented by the Arts Alliance of Northern New Hampshire & VSA New Hampshire as part of their Arts in Early Learning partnership, under a contract with the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and in cooperation with the NH Arts Learning Network, Pease Public Library and the New Hampshire Music Festival.